Generalising an almost relatively true statement

Steffen König

The derived categories of diagram algebras, such as Brauer algebras or partition algebras, usually are stratified by derived categories of group algebras of symmetric groups. By a result of Hemmer and Nakano, Specht modules of symmetric groups usually form standard systems in the sense of Dlab and Ringel.

This is a report of joint work with Robert Hartmann, Anne Henke and Rowena Paget.