Ben Cooper (Univ. Zurich)

Steenrod structures on quantum groups (joint with A. Beliakova)

Abstract : The Steenrod algebra is essential element in the study of the algebraic topology of spaces. The structures which underly the construction of categoried quantum groups are modules over this algebra in a natural way. This observation leads to a study which enriches the categoried quantum groups and associated constructions.